Mei Ping Homestay - Our workshop base

Join us to be inspired and to shape up your photographic skills during the most exciting time of the year in Chiang Mai, Thailand.

Award Winning Travel Photographer Felix Hug and his Producer Jamie Boyd have put together a great week of travel and photography during the Yi Peng Festival.

Your base will be a five-star homestay ensuring your complete privacy and comfort... It will give you the needed space and tranquility for your preparation and postproduction and also allows you to rest and share your experiences in a wonderful and peaceful setting after an exciting day in the field.

During the days out you will photograph temples, festivals, hill tribes, elephants and other hidden attractions in the region.

This workshop is tailored for both New and advanced amateurs, with any digital or film camera, who like to improve on their photography, while out and about. Please bring your own camera (6MP and above preferred) and laptop to the workshop. Please arrange your own travel insurances.

Space is limited to 10 photographers (minimum of 6)

2500 US $ all inclusive are:

- * Pick up and drop off at Chiang Mai airport
- * Transport and entry fees
- * Meals at the homestay
- * Twin share accommodation (Doubles and singles available on request)
- * All fees for Speakers & Instructors
- * To reserve your spot for an unforgettable week a nonrefundable fee of 500 US $ is required. The remaining fee will be due by the 15th September 07.

Although the course language is English, we speak Mandarin, German and some Italian as well.
